FAA, CDL & CG Medical Exams

By Michael Brown, MD
9900 Airport Way
Snohomish, WA 98296

-The primary goal of the airman medical certification program is to protect not only those who would exercise the privileges of a pilot certificate but also air travelers and the general public.
-A medical certificate is required to fly at any stage in your training and career.
-To get your medical an FAA-designated Aviation Medical Examiner (AME) must examine you. A person who meets FAA airmen medical standards, based on a medical examination and an evaluation of medical history, is entitled to a medical certificate without restriction or limitation other than the prescribed limitation as to its duration.

CHECKS & INSURANCE ARE NOT ACCEPTED.

Notes

- Completion of the FAA Form 8500-8 must be completed before arriving for your exam at the link: https://medxpress.faa.gov. Once completed, you must submit the questionnaire and obtain the
  - CONFIRMATION NUMBER!
  - I will need this number to even start your exam.
- If you are on any prescription medications, please contact Dr. Brown through the airport office (360) 568-1541 #3 prior to your medical. Some medications or medical conditions may render you ineligible for your medical.
- Candidates must be prepared to provide a urine specimen to test for diabetes or kidney disease. We do not test for drugs on this exam.
- ALL FIRST-TIME FAA APPLICANTS MUST TAKE THE CCVT (Color Vision Test). This is only required for new applicants or those wanting to upgrade from 3rd class who have an LOE or SODA for Color Vision Limitation.

➢ If you have to cancel an appointment:

DO NOT CANCEL BY EMAIL! PHONE THE OFFICE TO CANCEL!

-For more information about medicals you can find quite a bit of information on my website: https://faamed.net or on the FAA website:
http://www.faa.gov/licenses_certificates/medical_certification/

THE FAA REQUIRES THAT ALL CANDIDATES FOR MEDICAL CERTIFICATES COMPLETE AN ONLINE FORM. ALL INFORMATION MUST BE SUBMITTED ELECTRONCICALLY AT THE FOLLOWING WEB SITE:

https://medxpress.faa.gov/

Once you have completed the form, print out the completed form which has the
CONFIRMATION NUMBER

at the bottom or copy the confirmation number and bring it to your exam. I cannot download the form without the confirmation number which will only be issued once you complete and submit the form. For Scheduling Call (360) 568-1541 #3

Copyright 2025 ©

FAA, CDL & CG Medical Exams

By Michael Brown, MD
9900 Airport Way
Snohomish, WA 98296

Prices (Cash Prices, Insurance is not accepted.

There is a $5 surcharge for credit cards:

Visa/MC/AmEx/Discover/ApplePay/GooglePay)

At age 35 1st Class Pilots will need an ECG which, if normal will not require another until age 40 After age 40 all 1st Class Pilots will need one ECG/year, but two medical exams.

- Standard FAA 1st Class w/o ECG - $260 (Valid for one year for pilots under age 40)
- Standard FAA 1st Class with ECG - $360 [$260 + $100 w/ECG = $360] (Valid for 6 months for pilots >40)
- Standard FAA 2nd Class - $260 (valid 1 year regardless of age)
- Standard FAA 3rd Class - $220 (valid for 5 years for pilots under age 40, valid for 2 years for pilots over age 40)
- FAA Computerized Color Vision Test - $60.00 (Required for ALL first-time FAA Applicants – One Time Only
- Interim Medical Certificate, any class, w/o Exam for Special Issuance Candidates - $140
- Commercial Driver's License (CDL) - $260
- *Add-on CDL with an FAA Medical Certificate - $160
- CoastGuard/WA State Board of Maritime Pilots Physical Exam - $280*
- Add-on CG Exam to FAA Medical Certificate - $180
- Sports/Insurance Physical - $220
- ECG with or without FAA Exam - $100
- Outside ECG Interpretation - $100
- Hourly consulting fee for FAA Certification for HIMS Program, SSRI or ADHD - $520

Copyright 2025 ©